Weyerhaeuser Construction On Schedule

By Jon Thompson

Construction for the new $60 million Weyerhaeuser wood-processing plant south of Grayling is on schedule for a targeted start-up in September.

Plant Manager Tony Moore said testing on portions of the complicated, sophisticated system will begin soon. He estimated it would take three months for the plant to hit 50 percent production after start-up. Full production for the plant could be reached within a year and a half.

For a September start-up, Weyerhaeuser plans on employing about 150 persons for a 24-hour operation. Moore said approximately 100 workers will be hired through the Grayling Michigan Employment Security Commission and given orientation sessions plus training.

State Dept. of Commerce officials estimate Weyerhaeuser will provide about 100 additional jobs for wood producers supplying the new plant. Moore said at peak production 25 cords of wood an hour will be used at the plant.

The 250,000 sq. ft. plant will be heated almost entirely by its waste wood. Gas will be used for a back-up heating source if wood heaters break down.

The plant, located off Four Mile Road, will produce "Structurewood" a sheathing panel used for building floors, roofs, and walls.

ON SCHEDULE FOR SEPTEMBER START-UP—Construction at the new $60 million Weyerhaeuser plant is on schedule for a September start-up. One hundred and fifty persons will be employed by Weyerhaeuser at start-up and an estimated 100 jobs will be created for wood producers supplying the plant.

Third Grade: Gaining Confidence

(Editor's note: Public education throughout the state continues to make headlines, yet it's been ten years or more since most newspaper readers have been in a classroom. Our reporter went back to the classroom for a look at how Crawford AuSable schools are faring.)

By Jon Thompson

Teaching confidence and self-esteem go hand-in-hand with teaching math, reading, and other basic subjects in Cecilia Benson's third grade class at Grayling Elementary School.

"When the kids are successful at something and you let them know, they want to continue learning," Benson said. "Part of learning is feeling good about yourself."

"Just listen to the kids read now. At the beginning of the year some of them had problems reading and just didn't want to do it at all. Now they believe in themselves and get excited about reading the next story."

Benson has been teaching for 22 years and has taught her last 13 years at Crawford AuSable schools. While reports throughout the nation say public education is deteriorating (high school graduates who can't read, low college entrance scores), Benson said skill levels for Crawford AuSable third graders haven't slipped.

Comparing her students in the early 1970's here with her students in the 1980's, she said reading levels are about the same now as ten years ago. Spelling and handwriting skills also appear to be about the same. Math skills may have increased slightly and science knowledge seems to be higher in this decade possibly due to television and complex children's games.

Benson said most of the third graders transferring here recently from other districts are behind Crawford AuSable third graders in many subjects.

Thirteen years ago, when Benson came to Grayling See 3rd Grade on Page 8

TWENTY QUESTIONS—The third graders in Cecilia Benson's class play their own version of twenty questions. They ask her twenty questions in one minute and see if she can answer them all. These students are checking out math papers with her.

The nine Vikings now head to Lakeview Saturday for regional competition. The top four finishers among eight wrestlers in each weight class at regionals will head for state finals.

Ferguson said his wrestlers, who already run 4-5 miles a day for training, will begin two-day workouts in preparation for a run at regional and state titles.

Freshman cast members included David Gardiner, Brenda Prause, Kim Stockton, and Damon Thayer. All four contribute positively to this, their first high school production, and one can expect to see them expand into larger roles in future G.H.S. plays.

Sophomores Paul Gust and Denise Harrington have a year's high school acting experience behind them. But See Catch-22 on Page 8

From Our Corner...

Sunday afternoon...and all we can think of is Tuesday afternoon when we head for our R & R in Nevada...we could mention here that the Rotary Club will be having their annual fish fry at the American Legion on Friday, February 26th...we know there is enough publicity out on it but felt we would toss in a tid bit in our corner...proceeds go to the Rotarians to help in the several projects they endorse...

Our weekly weather report to our readers...this past week has been beautiful...temperatures in the high 20's, very little precipitation, such as snow, and every day one can almost see how the banks of snow are diminishing...with February the way it was all of us can start thinking spring...any March storms are for a day...the sun is high in the sky and has a lot of warmth...

To help fill this turkey for this week we are going to pull out of last year's corner a little bit which we think is cute and worth repeating for anyone like us who face this Monday deadline...here with...

Must Be Monday

One of our Register cartoon favorites over the years has been "Big George" who is perhaps best noted for his strong dislike of Mondays. Many share that opinion and this being another of those days will probably appreciate an anonymous donor's observances as to how you can tell it is going to be a bad day:

- "You see a '60 Minutes' TV filming crew waiting when you walk into your office.
- "You call 'Suicide Prevention' and they put you on hold.
- "Your only son tells you that he wishes Anita Bryant would mind her own business.
- "You turn on the news and they are broadcasting emergency routes out of the city.
- "The bird singing outside your window is a vulture.
- "Your blind date turns out to be your ex-wife.
- "Your car horn goes off accidentally and remains stuck as you follow a group of Hells Angels along the interstate.
- "Your twin sister forgets your birthday.
- "You put your bra on backwards and find that it fits better.
- "Your pet rock snaps at you.
- "Your wife says, 'Good morning, George,' and your name is Bill.
- Have a good week...

Our bride's Christmas tree decoration record for longevity didn't last long...the ink had hardly dried when we were approached and told by two people that they had broken the record...Marie Post was the first then Les Powers told us at the bank he also had broken the record...oh well guess you can't win them all...

Time to call a halt to our corner for this week...all we can think about is visiting the city that never sleeps...goodnight T.J., Stef and Amber...and to all our readers have a nice week, we'll see you in a couple weeks...Think Spring!

Purchase and Storage of Canned Hams

Gail Edwards,
 Ext. Home Ec.

When you purchase a canned ham, be sure to read and follow the storage directions. As their labels indicate, canned hams require refrigeration. If left unrefrigerated for more than four hours, they could be dangerous and should be discarded.

Canned hams which require refrigeration are pasteurized - not sterilized products. Pasteurization lowers the number of spoilage organisms present in a product, but does not reduce it to zero. Refrigeration is necessary to keep the remaining organisms from multiplying. If a canned ham is held at room temperature, these organisms can grow, making the product unfit for consumption. The recommended storage time for an unopened canned ham is six months. Once opened, it should be kept refrigerated and used within a week.

When cooking your ham, you might baste it with gingerale, pineapple juice, or apple cider. Or you may want to use a glaze of 1½ cups brown sugar, 2 teaspoons dry mustard and ½ cup bread crumbs. Garnish with cranberries and orange slices or cherries and pineapple slices.

Canned hams may also be sliced into 1 inch slices before cooking and covered with sliced apples, oranges or cranberries sprinkled with brown sugar or honey. You could also cover the ham slices with slices of canned pineapple, apricots, plums, prunes, peaches, cherries or raisins

Michigan's recent blizzards, the most severe in the history of modern transportation, meant a $242,642 bill to the state highway dept. A compilation announced by State Highway Commissioner Murray VanWagoner estimated snow-removal expenditures on the trunkline system at that amount for the first two weeks of February. This was the period in which Michigan experienced three successive blizzards which brought temperatures of zero to 25 below, 18 inches of snow on the level, and drifts as high as 15 to 20 feet. Expenditures in Crawford County for the month of February amounted to $1,536.30 as compared to $641 for the corresponding month of 1935.

For seven Sundays, beginning Jan. 12th, Kirby Snow Trains have brought large crowds to Grayling, and each time the conditions for winter sports were excellent, even right up to last Sunday. ## The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Your Spiritual Choice Contrasted Romans 5:17-21

We live in an ecumenical age when all religions are declared good. It reminds us of the Roman empire before the fall. Rome was full of religion and internal moral corruption at the same time. The worst religious offence then was to criticize or condemn another religion. We have religions in America today promoting homosexuality, idol worship and even devil worship. The Jim Jones cult was just a drop in the bucket picturing religious deception in America. Please notice the contrast between the true and the false.

1. Who is reigning in your life, Adam or Christ? "For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ." V. 17. If Adam reigns in your life, you are facing death. If Jesus Christ reigns in your life, you have received God's gift of righteousness made available only by His grace, and you now possess eternal life. You are now trusting in the offence of Adam or the sacrifice of Christ. It is a matter of life or death.

2. Are you trusting the one act of Adam or the one act of Christ? "Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous." Verses 18, 19. If you are still trusting your physical blessings from Adam, you stand before God as a condemned sinner because of God's judgment upon Adam's one offence of disobedience. If you are born-again in Jesus Christ, then you are trusting God's free gift of righteousness and you are declared justified by the obedience of Jesus Christ as your substitute.

3. Are you trusting God's law or God's grace to have eternal life? "Moreover the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound: That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord." Verses 20, 21. God's law could only expose the sinfulness of sin "that the offence might abound." Law could not stop the reign of sin or death by sin. Only God's grace in Jesus Christ our Lord can bring eternal life through the righteousness of God to reign in our lives over sin.

Remember, if you have only been born once in Adam, you will die twice; physically in the body and spiritually in Hell. If you have been born twice, once in Adam and born-again in Jesus Christ, then you will only die once, physically. In fact, if Jesus comes soon, you may not die at all! (adv.)

What's Happening at GHS

By Felicia Galvani

This week the Crawford County Deputy Sheriff's Association played the Crawford AuSable faculty, with the faculty winning. The proceeds were used for the schools libraries.

There are still a few copies left of the 1980-81 Saga yearbook, if you'd like one contact the High School. Speaking of a year book, the production of the 1981-82 edition is underway, Karen Kibbe and Cecilia Canfield, juniors, are the book editors.

Last but not least, congratulations to Donelle Bentley, Miss Grayling "82", Chelle Warners, 1st runner-up; Pam Gorten, 2nd runner-up and Shelly Belfour, Miss Congeniality.

Hoag Joins Air Force

Richard N. Hoag, 19, son of Mr. Gerald V. Hoag, of Grayling, has entered the United States Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to Staff Sergeant Christine M. Harr, the Air Force recruiter here, Hoag's entry into the DEP serves two purposes. First, it allows the Air Force to schedule an opening for him to attend basic training and be assigned to a job or skill area. Second, the DEP enables Hoag, a 1981 graduate of Grayling High School, to wrap up his personal affairs before leaving home.

Hoag will enter the Regular Air Force on September 3, 1982. Following graduation from the six-week basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, he will receive technical training as a Security Specialist and be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Wendell L. Hoover Park Interpreter

During the recent cold snap, I was watching the birds come to the feeder for suet and grain. There was a constant coming and going of familiar species: nuthatches, woodpeckers, blue jays, and the ever-present chickadee. They are not large, being only four or five inches long, but the black-capped subspecies is a widespread one ranging from Northern Ontario to Newfoundland, south to Missouri and North Carolina. While they are found it seems all over, their defended home territory is only 100 yards across.

While many birds migrate out at the first hint of cold weather, the chickadee stays with us. How this miniature ball of feathers survives the cold amazes many people, since they feed largely on insects and insect eggs. One source states that plant lice seem to be a favored food.

If you spend any time out-of-doors, the chickadee will soon find you. When I worked in the woods years ago, they were always around and their chickadee-dee-dee could be heard between strokes of the saw. Sitting in a deer blind, they will land on hats or gun barrels. On a cold day, their warm feet are in sharp contrast to the air temperatures. For many, their arrival at a feeder helps to bring cheer into the cold of winter and for skiers or snowshoers, the chickadee no doubt reaffirms the existence of life in the otherwise frigid landscape.

Kelley Joins Suit Against Sand Dune Mining

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Director, MPA

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley has joined two environmental groups in a lawsuit seeking to prohibit sand dune mining on 144 acres along Lake Michigan near Bridgman.

The lawsuit, filed in conjunction with Hope for the Dunes and the Michigan Environmental Protection Foundation, asks the Ingham County Circuit Court to set aside a mining permit issued to the Martin-Marietta Corporation by the Natural Resources Commission (NRC).

A temporary restraining order was issued against the permit pending a trial on the issues.

Martin-Marietta officials said the mining plan is in accordance with the law and would not destroy the dune or harm the environment.

They said 109 acres outside of the mining area, including a barrier dune, would be a buffer zone.

Also they said the sand dune act allows "responsible development of a natural resource vital to Michigan's economy". The dune is uniquely suited to its industrial purposes, the company added.

Kelley called the mining site, located north of the Warren Dunes State Park, one of the most important dune areas along the whole Lake Michigan shore.

"No other place along Michigan's coastline shows greater diversity in vegetation," he said.

The vegetation represents a succession of stages, with overlapping of northern and southern species. The company permit requires it to revegetate the area after mining.

Frederick Dilley of Grand Rapids, attorney for Hope for the Dunes and the MEPP, said, "If these sand dunes and the unique values they represent cannot be saved from the ravages of mining, then there is no sand dune in the state of Michigan or in the entire Great Lakes area which can be protected."

The lawsuit alleges procedural irregularities by the NRC in issuing the permit; the permit is against the great weight of evidence and mining would violate the Environmental Protection Act and the Sand Dune Protection Management Act.

Dilley said alternatives exist; other inland sources of sand should be used as well as dredged sand from Lake Michigan, recycling, alternative technology to reduce the amount of sand needed in foundry processes, use of dune sands already allowed by permit and use of dune sands not designated by the Dept. of Natural Resources as special areas.

Donald Wilson, president of Hope for the Dunes, said botanists have concluded that the dune area has a diversity so spectacular it should be saved from destruction.

The permit was issued in December with mining authorized to begin this month. The Dept. of Natural Resources had initially recommended denial of a permit in 1979, but in July a hearings officer recommended approval.

Ken Sikkema, executive director of the West Michigan Action Council, said the action is a test case to determine if the sand dune protection law will be rendered ineffective.

The council is pledging financial aid and political support for the suit.

COOR SPELLDOWN—In preparation for the COOR area Spelldown to be held on March 1, 1982, at the Roscommon High School, these Grayling Elementary School fourth graders held a spelldown to determine who will represent the school.

The COOR Spelldown is the first annual one held in the intermediate district. Teresa Ferguson, the winner at Grayling Elementary School on February 4, will compete against 16 other students from the district. Joanna Myers and Megan Dozer were named as alternates.

Dr. William Dieckrich was the announcer for the Grayling Elementary Spelldown while board members, Mrs. Paul Dosch, and assistant principal, David Hawkins, served as Judges.

UpNorth

By Michael Delp

It is tempting to write about getting up in the middle of the night and fumbling around in a canvas fishing bag, the gear somehow perfect, orderly, as if in the dream everything caught is a perfect fish, an example of Traver's mermaid we all fish for.

Lately, I have heard impassioned talk from medical people about endorphins, those marvelous chemicals produced in the body which bring on runner's high, ward off pain and lead us to believe we are better off than we really are. The pendulum swings both ways, however, and the incredible swirls in the emotions in the brain take us through days of rainbows and weeks of cerebral fog. So it that tonight, in the dead middle of February I am thinking about trout fishing, wading upstream, the line arched out ready to drop a subtle bit of line just above a fish.

I know full well a trout surging upstream with 70 feet of line and the reel set at full drag must have some knowledge of endorphins. Experts tell us a trout's brain is no larger than a pea. Imagine, something the size of a pea charged with pure endorphins. How wonderful it would be if we had bottled endorphins we could mix with Perrier water. Or straight endorphins might be nice, something you could sip along the side of the stream, something ten times more powerful than Yukon Jack but absolutely harmless.

Perhaps the beauty of endorphins, though, is that they do not come easily. They must be earned. I supposed they must be produced in such mass quantity that the brain verily floats in the skull until they start to drip down the spine, turning your entire body into an endorphin sponge.

Perhaps they work in a similar way to Reaganomics. Those of us who hit the streams sweating and charging through the summer will have the glut-ton's share of endorphin euphoria while those poor fools who have neither the money nor the social class to even begin thinking about an attack on a trout stream will be forced to swill generic beer in an effort to cope with mass layoffs, astronomical interest rates and Pentagon overkill. But they have a chance.

Individually, they may crawl close as we fish in our endorphin stupors, waiting for a chance to slip in downstream, in hopes that a stray cadre of endorphins might somehow seep from the body and trickle down to them. Imagine the line of humanity stretched from here to Oscoda waiting for even one overweight, gout-ridden fisherman to make a wrong move, lose his immense body in the black current of opening day.

District Court

The following persons appeared before Judge Francis L. Walsh in 83rd District Court on Tuesday, Feb. 16:

John Slater, 22, of Grayling, and Mike Chrisman, 19, of Jackson, pleaded guilty to charges of larceny under $100. They were fined $85 or 10 days. The men were cited by Michigan State Police on Jan. 22, 1981.

RSVP Mail Campaign

By Sherry Haag, Director

A special thanks to the approximately 250 organizations and individuals who have contributed to our annual 81-82 Mail Campaign.

Approximately $2,300.00 has been received of the total $5,000 we are required by ACTION (our Federal funding agency) to raise through local contributions.

Without the communities support and help, the Retired Senior Volunteer Program would not be able to survive.

For those who haven't made your contribution yet, you still have time. It can be mailed in to RSVP, P.O. Box 647, Grayling, or dropped by the office at 308 Lawndale across from the Senior Citizen Center.

RSVP volunteers provide approximately 20,000 service hours to the communities 39 agencies and areas non-profit organizations each year. 100% of every $1.00 goes directly to RSVP.

Leona Nichols will be in charge of Devotions, using Rev. Chapter 19.

All are welcome - See you there.

3rd Grade

from Southfield Public Schools, one of the best districts in the state at that time, she noticed in some subjects students here were behind Southfield students.

"One reason was students here were spending their time at home going out snowmobiling or skiing with their families. In Southfield, they didn't have the same recreational opportunities. Parents there stayed inside reading more with their children," Benson said.

Parents of this year's class have been great at helping their children with schoolwork, Benson said. Two mothers, Judy Eldridge and Nora Fraser, help in the classroom every week and others help their child at home when requested.

"Sometimes I'll write right on a paper a student takes home asking a parent to help with these words or this story. I explain to the parents I don't have time to cover all the work individually this year."

Benson has a shorter school day and a larger class - 34 students - to work with this year. Despite the increase in students, she still checks the progress of each student in all 35 academic areas shown on the students' California Achievement Tests.

Benson, who is with the children six hours a day for 180 days, also watches their social growth.

"Third-graders tend to tattle and cry a lot at the first of the year. You work with them, help them learn to get along with others, and by the end of the year they're super."

Benson even gives up her lunch hour to spend time with one or two different students each day "to give them a little more one-to-one time with their teacher."

Cutbacks this year have eliminated music and gym classes for Benson's third graders as well as the rest of the elementary students. Benson used to grade papers during those classes.

"Now I don't have a chance to grade papers until after the kids go home. Sometimes I find mistakes on papers that I wish I could have cleared up with the student that afternoon."

With more students, Benson works longer hours this year.

"I don't mind staying late - I don't have any young children at home. I just wonder how other teachers with families are doing it."

"No one has given up here," she added. "We're all hanging in there."

Regardless of the difficulties surrounding Crawford AuSable and other schools, third grade still is the place to be for Benson.

"You can see them growing in spurts at this age, socially, mentally, and physically. I love teaching third grade."

Catch-22

their fellow 10th grade actors in "Catch-22" include theatre newcomers Bruce Ahrens, Troy Haag, Patty Hahn, and Shelly Leal. These six underclassmen carry a large bulk of the show among them, and they all make an excellent contribution to the play.

Junior George Morse, who plays three different parts in "Catch-22" is a familiar face in G.H.S. productions. He has been involved in every play and musical since his freshman year. Ann Sloan and Anne Waggoner will also be recognizable to those audience members who saw "Anything Goes." But classmates Don Carl and Bob Ryan are welcome newcomers to the G.H.S. Players.

The majority of the seniors in "Catch-22" will be instantly recognized as theatre regulars. John Watkins, who heads this play's cast as Yossarian, has acted in every play produced at G.H.S. during his high school career.

Mark Hamilton, who plays the Chaplain, is acting in his 7th G.H.S. production. Mark serves as Treasurer of the Crawford County Arts Council and plans to study mechanical engineering at Michigan Tech next year. He says, "I enjoy working with others to put on a production we can all be proud of. I learn as much in the theatre as I do in class."

Classmate Larry Goodale thrives on acting. He serves as Secretary of the Arts Council, sings, plays the piano, and practices ventriloquism. Says Larry: "I love having three parts that are completely different from each other, and making the audience believe in all my characters. This is his 6th play at G.H.S. Larry has also apprenticed at Cherry County Playhouse for two summers, and, in fact, hopes to make entertaining his career."

Cathy Diedrich, who plays Nurse Duckett, has also appeared in several other high school plays. Cathy says of acting: "There's something special about every play produced. Everyone involved is dedicating his time and effort to make an enjoyable evening for the audience. "Catch-22" is fun to watch. I think people will love it." She plans to study pre-medicine at the University of Michigan next fall.

Todd Reeves may be practicing for his intended profession in psychology by portraying the Psychiatrist in "Catch-22". Todd, who also plays the Investigating Officer, is head of the set construction crew.

Seniors Mary Jo Bonkowski and John Gardiner play important roles between them, she as Luciana, and he as both Major Major and Colonel Cathcart. This is Mary Jo's first acting role since her freshman year; John has been a semi-regular in the Players' productions.

The cast is rounded out with Scott Zigala. Scott's only previous acting experience was a role in "Brigadoon," but he plays his two parts, Doctor and Whitcomb, with humor and charm. Scott says, "I enjoy being a part of this production." The production is fortunate to have him in it.

The Grayling area audience also is fortunate to have the Crawford County Arts Council, which stepped in to cover expenses for this play, thus making it possible to produce. Be sure to catch "Catch-22" this Thursday through Saturday, February 25-27, at 8:00 p.m. in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium. Tickets, at $2.00, can be purchased at the Grayling Mercantile, Flowers by Josie, and the Grayling Pharmacy, or at the door on production nights.

Viking Volleyball

Grayling hosts Petoskey tonight in what promises to be an exciting match as the Vikings and Northmen played dead even in the St. Ignace Invitational. The Vikes will face Petoskey again this weekend in a tournament at Rogers City along with 3 Class A schools, Gaylord and two state-ranked teams.

The J.V. volleyball team took one of three games against Rogers City 15-7, 11-15 and 2-15. Deanna Hubbard, Shannon Krayes and Traci Riley were strong servers for Grayling. Hubbard, Krayes, Tammy Moore, Dawn Phelps and Paula Harwood showed some good consistency in the court game and all Vikings are determined to win against Petoskey.

The Rogers City varsity moved from 6th to 3rd in state rankings last week and took 2 matches from Grayling. In the first set, the Vikings had a lot of trouble with Huron serves and spikes but they came back to play a solid second set with close games 14-16 and 11-15. Gina Bidwell's efforts off the bench were a key boost to the Vikings in the second set.

Shelly Trenary again led the spiking for Grayling with strong serving from Kathy Worden, Lisa LaMotte, Trenary, Jenny Riker and Kay Fox. Riker led the Vikings in bumps, sets, blocks and dinks with a 95% game average. Wendy and Tammy Savallisch combined for good secondary setting with Tammy and Kathy Worden also getting a couple of key blocks. The bumping or court control hit was handled by Riker, Trenary, Worden and Wendy Savallisch.

Player of the Week:
2/17/82 Jenny Riker.

"Devil's Invention" A lesson from the past...

Almost a century has passed since Silvio Dolza heard a Sicilian clergyman assail the steam engine as the "devil's invention."

History, of course, has proven the clergyman wrong. But time hasn't erased the sermon from John Dolza's memory, for his father—Silvio—stressed it as an example of the dangers of ignorance and superstition.

"God made fire the enemy of water," the clergyman warned. "Great fires will make water disappear. He made water the enemy of fire; indeed much water will kill a fire. The men that try to marry fire and water in engines are sacrilegious and are working against God."

"To us it sounds ridiculous, but the opposition to modern things of most of the Sicilian leaders proved to be a very, very serious handicap for many years," John Dolza says.

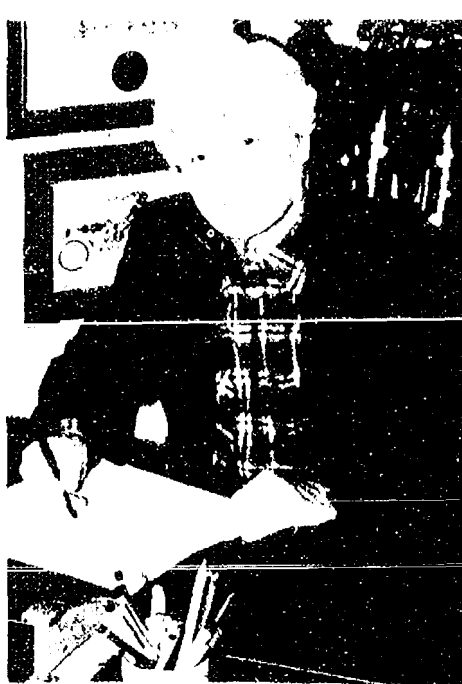

The lesson accompanied Dolza and his engineering skills when he immigrated to the United States as a young man. He worked for General Motors for many years, then began Dolza International Engineering. Credited with more than 120 inventions, he lives in Fenton.

Through his 80 years Dolza has seen countless technological changes. But although the machines change, nuclear power is on the energy forefront that steam power held a century ago. Dolza sees a disheartening similarity between his father's time and today's fight against nuclear power.

"The opposition to nuclear power is very, very harmful," he says. "With the price of imported energy, keeping these nuclear plants from being completed is just plain criminal."

He points out that Italy paid a high price for a similar mistake long ago, when 10- and 15-year-old children were forced to work in underground sulfur mines.

"These youngsters died of tuberculosis caused by malnutrition, no ventilation in the tunnels and sulfur dioxide," he says. Meanwhile, American ingenuity found a way to inject steam into the ground, melt the sulfur and make it float through nearby wells to aboveground collectors. This technique, besides discarding the dangerous child labor, was more economical.

John Dolza

In Italy, however, prejudice against steam power blocked the new technology. The opposition killed Italy's sulfur industry.

"When I see on television mostly young people opposing nuclear power plants, I realize with great sadness that ignorance is just as serious today as a century ago," he says.

"Imported oil is making us poorer and poorer, and the money spent abroad comes back to buy off our land and its resources. Oil for power stations will be even more prohibitive in the future than now."

"I've never seen anything so safe or so respectful of its surroundings as nuclear energy. I think the developers have to be congratulated for a step forward," Dolza says.

"If we are to follow the antinuclear power plant logic, then we would all go back to nature and live in caves."

"Nuclear power does not put smoke into the atmosphere. It does not put sulfur dioxide into the atmosphere. It does not put dust into the atmosphere. We need nuclear energy."

"It would show the future financial disaster if this nation permits itself to lose its muscles by accepting the intimidations of ignorance."

Another Bit of History About our Area

Did you know that the first railroad locomotive that ever sounded the blast of a whistle in Grayling was the "North Pole?" Locomotives were named instead of numbered in early times. There were three locomotives that used to run between Bay City and Grayling - all wood burners - The North Pole, Northward, and the Grizzly Bear.

Did you know that in 1917 the Public Domain Dept. of the State decided to turn the Hanson State Game Reserve into a pheasant breeding farm and intended to remove the elk and deer. Mr. Phelps who had wonderful success with the animals was transferred back to Mayville. The new arrangements were placed in the hands of a bird expert of New Jersey. At that time there were eleven elk and thirty deer in the preserve. A little research into the history of the area proves that this undertaking was not a success.

Another unsuccessful undertaking by the boys in Lansing headed by State Game Commissioner John Baird was to sign a contract for sixty head of Norwegian Reindeer in 1921. Michigan was going to try the feasibility of raising reindeer on cutover land in order to replenish the State's meat supply. Three Laplanders came with the reindeer to watch over them until state men could be trained in the art of raising the animals. The box car loads of reindeer were unloaded at the Sandhill curve north of Grayling. They were herded into the fenced in area West of the railroad tracks.

Evidently the area wasn't suitable for raising reindeer as part of the herd died. Later the remaining reindeer were moved to the Upper Peninsula where the results were the same. I was present during the unloading of the beautiful animals at the Sandhill Curve.

Another interesting item dug out in my many hours of reading was this fact. In 1963 an inquiry as to Grayling's elevation above sea level resulted in the Avalanche calling the U.S. Geological Survey which came up with the information that the marker located at the sidewalk corner of Peninsular and Michigan Avenue described as the south corner of the courthouse lawn, "now the bank corner" marks an elevation of 1,140.854 feet above sea level. The markers which are located all over the country in various places, do not carry the numbers, as they were permanently imbedded before the measurements were completed.

In the first paragraph of my story on Cedar Street I stated that "I will probably miss some of the places that were located along the way." To all my critics, I am happy to hear that you are reading the articles. Now why don't you sit down and write about our wonderful area.

When you look through the Avalanche each week, take time to read the R.S.V.P. Reports by Sherry Haag, Director. We are fortunate in Crawford County to have this wonderful program.

Our Crawford County Historical Museum would not be open seven afternoons a week if it wasn't for the wonderful volunteers.

See you at the Crawford County Historical Museum after Memorial Day.

Elmer L. Fenton,
President
Crawford County
Historical Society

On Saturday, February 27th at 8:00 p.m., the Reef Petroleum Big Band will be performing in the Kirtland Community College Auditorium near Roscommon. The band, fast becoming one of the more popular jazz bands in the mid-west, was formed in 1980 and is sponsored by Reef Petroleum. In the past, they have backed The Four Freshmen, and individual members have played with Stan Kenton and Woody Herman.

In addition, the Roscommon High School Jazz Band, under the direction of Mr. Larry Sumerix, will also be performing. The Jazz Band evolved in 1974, and consists of 20 Roscommon area students. Since their inception, they have performed yearly at the Central Michigan University Jazz Festival.

Tickets for the combined performances will be $4.00 for general admission, and $3.00 for senior citizens and students, and are available at the door.

RSVP Reports

By Sherry Haag, Director

Today's topic for discussion will be Mental and Physical Health and how RSVP volunteers are involved. This topic is one of the continuing subjects that was discussed at the White House Conference on Aging held in Washington, D.C. on Nov. 30-Dec. 3, 1981.

Despite advances in health care, senior Americans still suffer from a shortage of quality, affordable, and accessible health services. Costs are high and private health insurance coverage frequently is not adequate. Seniors are especially hard hit by high medical expenses. Volunteers help ease the plight of these people by assisting those who are disabled and seeing that those who need medical attention get it. Volunteers provide transportation to and from hospitals, doctor visits, and assist in helping the disabled stay active and healthy both mentally and physically.

RSVPers in Kansas are working with hospital staffs in programs with disturbed young people age 13-20. These programs exemplify the important expanding role older volunteers are playing in mental health programs in the U.S.

RSVP volunteers in Grand Rapids, Michigan, are involved in school reading programs, working at the Mental Health Office with disturbed young people, serving meals at area nutrition sites, and help with tax assistance.

In Crawford County, volunteers provide service hours to the Red Cross, COOR Intermediate School, Hartwick Pines, and the Crawford County Historical Society Museum.

Speaking of which, May will be here before we know it and if you're interested in working at the Pines or Museum, give us a call.

Also in May will be the Recognition Dinner for all RSVPers. Don't forget, you need 30 hours or more to be eligible for dinner on RSVP. If you're not sure how many hours you have, give us a call.

Volunteers are still needed for the Middle School extra help program. No experience necessary - training provided by Youth Services.

We also need volunteers who would like to visit shut-ins or home bounds. Mileage reimbursement is provided by RSVP.

If you're 60 years of age or older and would like to be a member of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program, give us a call at 348-4341 or 348-8322 for more information. No dues to pay, no meetings to attend, just doing what you like, when you like. Besides, you meet the nicest bunch of people volunteering.

Grayling Elementary School News

Mrs. McEvers fourth grade class is collecting stamps. They are learning where to collect them. They are also picking one kind of stamp, like men, women, plants, etc. They are going to look up that stamp and write a report on it. They are learning how to use the Scott Stamp Collecting Catalogue. They are learning a lot of things. By Janet Petrosky, 5th grade.

Dawn Whaley went to the Special Olympics in Sugarloaf on February 10, 11, and 12. And came back Saturday. She went downhill skiing and cross country skiing. Her mother and father were not able to go with her. She won a bronze and gold medal. By Dusty Smith and Anjanette Pratt, 5th grade.

In Mrs. Fleming's third grade class they are learning to write letters in English. They already wrote a letter to a boy who was in their class but moved to Florida. And they got a letter back from him. They also took their Ginn Mastery test. By Betty Partello and Debbie Jones, 5th grade.

Last Monday Mrs. Prause's class started to make a project for social studies. They had to make one of these things: a sawmill, a steel factory, or a flour mill. The most popular of these is the steel factory. Some pupils used tin foil to make some things look like steel. All of the pupils boxes are painted except for one. Mrs. Prause thinks her pupils did a pretty good job. Most of the steel factories have cars and screws in them. Some of them have something like a megaphone in it. Others have popsicle sticks painted silver and some plain. One has a little U-Haul type thing on it. By Kris Partello and Paul Failing, 5th grade.

Mrs. Benson had a Valentine party on Feb. 12. Jonathan Hable is going to Arizona for two weeks with his grandmother. Chris Greier moved to Flint and they really miss him. Benjamin Wollmer has five stitches in his hip after falling in class. We would like to thank Mrs. Nunn for subbing, a beautiful job! When Mrs. Benson came into the room Tuesday she had flowers on her desk from Peter Opperman. Matt Branch was at the middle school dance (his mom was chaperoning) He was sliding on the bleachers and got a sliver, the size of a pencil, in his leg. First he said to his mom, Mom! my leg hurts, so they checked it and went to the hospital and got six stitches. By Sheryl Klinger and Janice Helsel, 5th grade.

In Mr. Hatfield's fourth grade class they are learning to write letters in English. They already wrote a letter to a boy who was in their class but moved to Florida. And they got a letter back from him. They also took their Ginn Mastery test. By Betty Partello and Debbie Jones, 5th grade.

Interlochen Ballet at Roscommon March 3rd

INTERLOCHEN, Dancers from Interlochen Arts Academy will bring the energy of modern dance and the timeless elegance of ballet to the Roscommon High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m., March 3rd.

The Roscommon concert, sponsored by The Roscommon Public Library & The RCMS-Arts Council is part of a five-day "Outreach" tour which will take the young dancers to five Michigan cities. "Outreach" is supported each year by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

The 15-member dance ensemble performs both modern and ballet dance pieces choreographed by the Academy dance faculty and guest instructors. Included in the tour repertoire are works ranging from "Western Sketches," choreographed to the music of Aaron Copland, to "Odet," performed to music by Bach.

Also on the program is an original version of "Alice in Wonderland," choreographed to the music of William Walton. This delightful children's classic features narration and colorful costumes.

During their five-day tour, the dancers will present concerts in Detroit, Roscommon, Flint, Mt. Pleasant, and Petoskey.

Members of the ensemble represent eight states and two foreign countries. They are among nearly 400 high-school age students who come from all over the world to study arts and academics at the Academy, part of the Interlochen Center for the Arts. Located 15 miles southwest of Traverse City, the Center also includes the Academy's summer counterpart, the National Music Camp. Admission is by donation. For further information regarding the concert, contact Roscommon Public Library at 275-5723 or Julia Byron after 4 p.m. at 821-5890.

Next time you see a church standing in the snow, its spire raised to the winter sky, think how hard it was to attend church services in your grandfather's day.

Then it was a matter of getting up in the cold chill of early morning, hitching up horse and sled and jingling across the country-side with sharp icicles of wind stinging your cheeks. Yet few stayed at home because of the weather.

Today, it is relatively easy for all of us to get to church. Whether we live in the city or in the country, modern transportation can bring us conveniently to the very doors of the church. Yet we are far more apt to stay home than grandfather was.

Grandfather realized there was so much to be gained by making his pilgrimage through the snow that only sickness could have kept him at home. He knew that few experiences were richer than worshipping in the church of his choice each week. If we stop to think . . . and if we're honest with ourselves . . . we'll know it too.

Vikes Encouraged By 2nd Half Play

League-leading Charlevoix handed Grayling their 13th loss last Friday but the Vikings scored a partial victory in the 78-64 loss.

Coach Butch Hayes said his squad played their best half of the year against the Rayders in the second half. Grayling had jumped on Charlevoix in the Rayder's gym taking a 20-19 lead before disaster hit.

Grayling couldn't buy a bucket and fell behind 43-22 at halftime. Grayling fought back with good passing, by pressing well, and diving after loose balls.

"In the second half we played with the best intensity, confidence, and teamwork we've had in any game this year," Hayes said. "It was encouraging."

Brad Trenary led Grayling scorers with 19 points. Three other Vikings hit double figures. Ted Methner scored 16, Tracy Fagan scored 11, and Jamie Radebaugh scored 11.

Wayne Ross and Monte D'Amour added four apiece and Jim Hill had 3.

Last Tuesday against Kalkaska, Grayling squandered an 8-point lead in the second quarter and wound up losing 71-65. The Blue Blazers outscored Grayling 33-15 in the 2nd and 3rd quarters to turn the game around.

Hayes said they pressed causing turnovers. He also said Grayling stopped playing their team game.

Trenary scored 26 points to lead Viking scorers. Radebaugh scored 13, Methner 8, Fagan 6, Jim Schrader 5, Mike Hickey 2, and Jim Hill 1.

The J.V. squad picked up two close wins last week beating Kalkaska 48-45 in double overtime and defeating Charlevoix 45-43.

Against Kalkaska, Barsie Cross scored 27 points and hauled down 21 rebounds. Jim Stewart had 14 points. Against Charlevoix, Stewart led scoring with 19. Cross had 16 rebounds and 8 points.

WHAT DO YOU HAVE TO LOSE?

TAXES !

That's right! Beginning January 1, 1982, ALL wage earners can enjoy the tax saving benefits of an Individual Retirement Account (IRA). Even if your employer already has an established pension program, you can begin setting aside up to $2,000.00 per year of TAX DEFERRED income in your own IRA.

Funds (principal and interest) in an IRA remain tax free until you retire, at which time you will probably be in a lower tax bracket.

And you don't need $2,000.00 to qualify... that is the maximum you can deposit. You can deposit from earnings any amount you wish up to $2,000.00... and at any time you wish. In fact, payroll deductions may be a perfect way for you to systematically invest in your IRA.

At First Savings, you will receive a top return on your deposit. And unlike most other IRA programs, your funds are insured up to $100,000.00 by the FSLIC, an agency of the federal government. IRS regulations provide for substantial penalties for withdrawal from IRA accounts before age 59 1/2. Federal regulations also require substantial penalties for early withdrawal.

If you were to deposit $2,000.00 per year and receive a 12%* yield, here's a sample of how fast your funds would accumulate.

	5 yrs.	10 yrs.	15 yrs.	20 yrs.	25 yrs.	30 yrs.
	$14,458.00	$40,570.00	$87,732.00	$172,913.00	$326,759.00	$604,625.00
